evolution horizontal lifeline

Nobles Victoria is now an officially accredited installer of DBI Sala "evolution" horizontal lifeline systems.

The evolution system is a permanent system that is ideally suited to applications such as roof maintenance, overhead cranes, operations in aircraft hangers, bridge maintenance, loading docks and any other application where tasks have to be performed at height.

Nobles have been a long time distributor of the Capital Safety range of DBI Sala, Protecta and First fall arrest products and the permanent horizontal lifelines further extends Nobles service offering in this crucial safety area.

The evolution system is designed with innovation in mind as it is ideal for every structure, favours movement along the line, effectively protects workers from falls and is discreet enough to blend into the building without compromising its aesthetics.

Shuttle—As the central part of the EVOLUTION lifeline system the shuttle accompanies the user along the line smoothly passing over intermediate brackets.

Posts—The EVOLUTION posts consist of two parts, the LEAP energy absorbing type or tilt type and a base that is designed to fit on most modern roof profiles. The post can be equipped with an anchorage point an intermediate bracket or a curve as required.

Curves—The range of curves in the EVOLUTION system enables any possible curve to be negotiated. The anti-rotation system also makes it possible to keep the curve totally horizontal and in line with the cable to guarantee optimum passage of the shuttle.

Energy Absorber—The LEAP Energy Absorber is designed to take the forces associated with a fall thus protecting the safety of the workers and the structure to which the lifeline is attached.
